Abundant rainfall in winter and absence of spring frosts, very favorable but irregular bud break in mid-April. A very dry spring with higher than average temperatures. The vines flowered rapidly with a uniform fruit set. A hot summer and early start to the harvest with balanced alcohol and progressive ripening of the skins.

Full bodied, opulent, and floral, with a wide range of aromas and nuances. Very complete, rich and elegant, with silky tannin and juicy fruitiness.

San Roman 2009 was bottled in April 2012 after spending 24 months in French & American oak barrels of different ages. Excellent maturity in a vintage full of fruit with very expressive wines.
