After a mild winter which was followed by a rainy spring, the summer of 2007 was characterized by lower average temperatures and the first days of September were sunny with strong day-night thermal contrasts which allowed a staggered start of the harvest on the 15th of September with a slow maturation.

San Roman 2007 was bottled in August 2010 after spending 25 months in French and American oak barrels of different ages.

Serious and fresh on the nose with notes of red fruit in liqueur, herbs and soft notes of creamy oak. Full bodied and succulent on the palate, a wine full of character and wonderful concentration.
