A vintage of mild temperatures and little rainfall. After a benign, dry winter, spring was scarce in rain and mild, with no threat of late frosts between budding and bud break. Flowering took place during the second week of June with an average fruit set. During the summer, which was mild with some storms, the fruit reached excellent ripeness. Harvest began on 6 September with moderate yields.

Full bodied, deep, incisive, with a lot of weight of fruit and an earthy feel. It is back on the path of more sober and powerful vintages such as 2010 and 2014.

San Román 2019 was bottled in February 2022 after spending 24 months in new and used 225 and 500 litre French and American oak barrels.
